Excerpt: .or clauses (or clause-equivalents) dependent on a verb of saying, thinking, etc., called the leading verb (Indirect Speech, Oratio Obliqua): e.g. dywedodd nad oedd neb yno, he said that there was no one there. This is the second of the Bills which have been brought forward for the purpose of widening a part of the Chester and Holyhead Railway in order to meet the increasing traffic. In itself the undertaking is one of the most welcome; and if it should be carried out with due regard to the interests of the business men of North Wales and those of the local authorities of those districts where the extension of the line interferes with public claims, no one could raise any objection to it. There are several provisions lacking in the Bill in its original form, in order to secure the claims of the roads and other authorities that are affected. A lengthy correspondence has taken place between these bodies and the railway company, and the result is that fairly favourable arrangements have been made. Mr.Herbert Lewis said--that that was the second of the Bills which had been brought forward for the purpose of widening a part of the Chester and Holyhead Railway in order to meet the increasing traffic. In itself, the undertaking was one of the most welcome; and if it should be carried out with due regard to the interests of the business men of North Wales and those of the local...
