(Special Letter to The National Provisioner from Aspegren and Co.) New York, April 2, 1913. --As stated in our last review we saw nothing but higher prices ahead, and same materialized during the past week. On the almost entire absence of crude oil offerings, and with the consumer a heavy buyer and the New York market relatively the cheapest in the country, buyers naturally were compelled to buy here. Strenuous efforts were made to fill these buyers up, but they became so persistent that sellers were compelled to...
